SHOT BY AN ASSASSIN!

A Young Lady Fired Upon by an Unknown While She is Out Riding--The Criminal Calendar.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 20.—Yesterday afternoon Miss Florence McKeogh while riding her pony, about three miles northwest of this city, was fired at twice by unknown parties in hiding. One shot passed through the back part of her body between her shoulders. The young lady managed to remain on her horse and succeeded in reaching a house about a mile distant. The sheriff and posse are scouring the country endeavoring to capture the villian. No cause is known for the shooting. Miss McKeogh is a daughter of Mr. McKeogh, who is well known in Memphis and Washington, D. C.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 20.—At Odom, Ga., yesterday, Justice W. H. Ashingwall and Mr. Odom, who have been unfriendly with each other for some months, quarreled. Odom made some contemptuous allusion to the justice, whereupon the later drew a pistol. Odom leaped upon the justice, took the pistol from him, and shot him in the head. Although dangerously wounded the justice pulled out a knife and stabbed Odom twice near the heart. Both men are still alive, but may die.

JEFFERSON, Wis., May 20.—A few weeks ago the officers of the county were notified by the sheriff of Douglas county, Missouri, to keep a sharp lookout for the appearance here of three criminals, who on March 24 made their escape from jail. They were said to be the last surviving members of the old Jesse James gang. Wednesday of last week three men answering their description appeared in Watertown, this county, and were arrested. All of the desperadoes carried pistols and when arrested attempted to use them, but were prevented by the quickness of the officers. Besides the pistols a kit of the finest burglars' tools was taken from them. The sheriff of Douglas county arrived yesterday and fully identified the prisoners. The crimes for which they are wanted are the robbery of the Wright county, Missouri, treasury office of $7,000, and Samuel Turner, a Douglas county merchant, of $200. They will be taken to Missouri to-day.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Clinton Reynolds, who was shot in his office at 41 Wall street, last Thursday, by young Alphonse Stephanie, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the Chamber hospital. Stephanie is now a prisoner in the Tombs.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Barney Benson, a teamster, shot and killed Jerry Sweeney, a young man who worked for him, shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, in front of a barn on Morgan street near West Lake. The two men had been drinking, and when they reached the barn, where Benson keeps his teams, a dispute arose about some business matters. The two got into a quarrel and after a brief rough and tumble fight in which Benson was badly worsted by his younger antagonist, Benson pulled a revolver and fired two shots, both of which took effect in Sweeney's breast near the heart. Sweeney died instantly. Benson was arrested.

FIRE IN A MINE.

Appalling Loss Near Massillon, O.--Fires Elsewhere.

MASSILLON, O., May 20.—Fire has control of the Minglewood mine at North Lawrence, seven miles west of this city. When the men entered the mine Friday morning two of the rooms were found on fire. The flames have steadily advanced since. The mine is perfectly dry, which renders the situation more alarming, and the direct possible and probable money damage is simply appalling. The mine is the largest in the valley, employing 300 men, and all work has been suspended, all the entries and rooms being filled with smoke. The slope extends three-quarters of a mile under ground.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 20.—The Jennison plaster mills at Grandville burned yesterday morning causing a loss of $30,000. The Diamond Wall Finish company lost $1,500 worth of machinery.

USED REVOLVERS.

A Constable and a Man Named Wiles Have a Skirmish.

The sheriff was notified to-day of a shooting occurrence in Eel River township. From the meagre details on hand it was learned that a constable in attempting to arrest a man named Wiles was shot upon. A fight ensued in which shots were exchanged. It is not known whether anyone was injured. Wiles is at large and it is said he is wanted on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

DEATH BY DYNAMITE.

A Convict Preferred it to Working in the Mines.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20.—Bob Crawford, a white convict from Pratt mine, lay dow a stick of dynamite, lit a fuse and shouted "good-bye" to a dozen fellow-convicts who were watching him. About half a bushel of his remains have been found. He had just been recaptured after escaping from the officers and said he would rather die than serve out his sentence at the mines.

WASHINGTON.

The Kemmler Case in the Supreme Court--Congressional Matters.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The supreme court has reserved its decision in the Kemmler case and adjourned until Friday.

The senate is considering a bill from the judiciary committee to overcome the effects of the recent supreme court decision on liquor in original packages. The bill was debated at length and is still under discussion.

The house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill, Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in the chair. Mr. Henderson, of North Carolina, offered an amendment abolishing the minimum punishment prescribed for violation of the internal revenue laws—rejected. Mr. Cowles, of North Carolina, offered an amendment repealing the tobacco tax—rejected. Mr. Sayres, of Texas, offered an amendment providing that iron and steel Colton ties or hoops for baling purposes, not thinner than No. 20 wire guage, shall be admitted free of duty.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

Collision Between Strikers and the Troops--Gladstone's Speech.

PILSEN, Bohemia, May 20.—A serious collision between the striking colliers and the troops has occurred, in which five of the strikers were killed and seven wounded.

LONDON, May 20.—Mr. Gladstone, during the course of an address delivered at Spaulding, in Lincolnshire, said that the liberal party would welcome a dissolution of parliment and an appeal to the country.

Lord Weymss, addressing the house of Lords to-day, took occasion to denounce the tendency of the government to encourage socialist legislation.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 20.—The sensation of the hour is the announcement that the British government has demanded full explanation as to the case of General Sir Frederick Middleton in connection with the looting of half-breed Bremners' furs during the late northwest rebellion.

GARFIELD'S REMAINS

Removed From the Public Vault to the Crypt of the New Monument.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 20. — The bronze casket containing the remains of President Garfield was removed from the public vault in Lake View cemetery to the crypt of the new monument just before daylight this morning. The coffin in which Grandma Garfield's remains repose was also transferred to the monument at the same time. Both caskets were opened long enough for the members of the Garfield family, who were present, to satisfy themselves that the remains were all right, after which they were sealed for all time.

Suspended.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The suspension of Harry Markal, of Philadelphia, has just been announced to the New York exchange, of which he was a member.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—For Indiana: Fair weather; warmer; variable winds.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Sweeps Over Several Parts of Ohio and Does Great Damage to Property.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, May 20.—Wayne, Ashland, Richland and Shelby counties were visited Sunday night by a terrific wind, rain and hail storm. Great damage was done to all, but Wayne county suffered the most. Three townships are swept clean. No loss of life is reported. Property is damaged to the amount of $100,000.

The storm struck the central portion of Wayne county late in the evening. A driving rain drenched the earth and filled all the streams bank full. The torrents of water seemed to chill the air and in a short time hail stones, many as large as a walnut, covered the earth to a depth of several inches. In falling they killed many sheep and hogs. Wind of great violence closed the storm. It levelled fences, tore down barns and woods, unroofed houses, and by its antics terrorized the people. In Congress, Canada and Milton townships there is scarcely a rod of fence standing and not a house is left undamaged.

Jacob Martin lost both his cows, all his sheep sheds and forty head of sheep and hogs. The roof was blown off his dwelling and there is not a panel of an upright fence on his farm of 800 acres. Mr. Martin is only one of scores of farmers thus suffering.

MUST HAVE THEM.

The Waiters Bringing the Chicago Hotels to Terms.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 20.—The three hotels where strikes among the waiters occurred yesterday, the Palmer, the Tremont, and the Commercial are running very short handed. The Grand Pacific signed the scale of the culinary alliance last evening, and the Audit signed it this afternoon.

The hotel help are in sympathy with the striking waiters. At the Tremont house a half dozen bell boys who were asked to take the places of striking waiters, went out on a strike themselves. Chambermaids, cooks and other servants have been put to work in dining rooms, but they do the work with not a little grumbling.

HYNES IS SHORT.

The Treasurer of the Order of Hibernians Skips Out.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Patrick Hynes, of Green's Point, L. I., who has served two terms as national treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, left his home two weeks ago, saying that he was going to attend the convention of the order at Hartford.

His friends have not heard from him since, and the Sun intimates that there is a shortage of $1,400 in Hynes' account with the order. The convention elected Thomas J. Dundon, of Ohio, to succeed Hynes as treasurer. Hynes' bondsmen, it is thought, will make good the shortage.

FIFTY DOLLARS A MONTH

Must Be Paid by Every Liquor Dealer at Burlington, Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 20.—In a recommendation from Mayor Duncan the city council last night passed an ordinance placing a tax of $50 a month upon all places where liquor is sold in this city. There are now about eighty of these places, and the revenue is to go into the city's general fund. The action was advised by the city attorney and is the result of the recent decision of the United States supreme court on the "original package" question.

THEY WERE TAXED.

Two Miners Had $5,000 in Gold in Their Trunks.

ISHPMING, Mich., May 20.—Henry Varkow and son, William, miners employed at the Michigan gold mine, quit work Saturday and announced their intention of going home to England. Their trunks were searched and over $5,000 worth of gold found concealed.

WORKING CONGRESSMEN.

Protectionists are Bidding for Votes for the Tariff Bill.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 20.—Half a million dollars will be invested in the erection of a tin plate mill in this vicinity if the McKinley tariff bill passes. It will be one of the largest in the world.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

MONTREAL, Que., May 20.—Fred Roths, a young Englishman hailing from Surrey, has mysteriously disappeared from this city.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—A local detective bureau is trying to find some trace of David Christie Murray, the English lecturer, whose friends are unable to ascertain his whereabouts.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Proceedings of Their Session at Saratoga—Denouncing Lotteries—Preparing for the Debate.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 20. — This morning's session of the Presbyterian assembly was occupied in hearing committee reports and listening to prosy addresses. The reports, with a single exception, were promptly adopted without debate and the assembly displayed more impatience than at any time since it convened. The committee on bills and overtures reported an overture from the Presbytery of Philadelphia concerning the celebration of the 5th semi-centennial of the adoption of the Westminster confession. The convention recommended the assembly to refer the matter to the Pan-Presbyterian convention when it meets in 1892. Adopted.

An overture from the Presbytery of Olymphia, asking the division of the synod of Columbia and the organization of the synod of Washington, comprising the Presbyteries of Idaho, Washington, Olymphia and Alaska, was approved by the convention. The report was adopted after desultory discussion in which it was shown that the object of the division was because of the vast territory embraced in the present synod.

With regard to the overture from the Presbytery of Bismarck on lotteries the committee reported that the Presbyterian church denounces the various influence of lotteries and all other forms of gambling, etc. Adopted.

A memorial of ministers and elders in Oklahoma asking to be placed in the Presbytery of Chickasaw, the committee approves. Rev. H. S. Little, D. D., of Texas, read the report of the board of home missions. The board has organized two Sunday schools per day during the past year and every second day a church. This was accomplished at an average cost of $450 per minister. In New Mexico and Texas many Roman Catholics are joining the Presbyterian church. The work of the women's executive committee during the year was especially effective. It raised the sum of $286,627, as against $246,580, raised by all the churches. The committee reported against the overture of the Presbytery of Marion, synod of Ohio, concerning the return of certain moneys. A motion was made to adopt and Rev. Wm. Irwin, D. D., of New York, one of the corresponding secretaries of the board, proceeded to address the assembly on the subject. The report was adopted, and recess taken until 2:30 p. m.

Consideration of the board of publication's report is the first order for this afternoon. It is expected it will stir up a lively debate. Two reports were submitted, one of which, made by a special committee, charges gross extravagance on the part of the board. Dr. Crosby is chairman of the board and R. R. Simons, of New Jersey, chairman of the special committee.

The question of revision is still in its preliminary stage. The committee on methods of changing the constitution will come in with its second report Thursday morning when the debate will be renewed and it is expected, will be more inquest direct than the debate already had. The committee was in session several hours this morning wrestling with the knotty adopting act problem.

MRS. D. B. WELLS.

The Principal of Westminster Seminary Speaks on Missions at Bluffton.

(Bluffton Bugle.)

Mrs. D. B. Wells, principal of Westminster Seminary of Fort Wayne, occupied the usual service hour at the Presbyterian church last evening, with an address on missions. She did not come as an official representative of any missionary organization, but was moved by the love of Christ to improve every opportunity to present a cause in which she took a deep interest. The need of the gospel among the freedmen, the Indians, and Mormons in our own country, and of the wretched condition of woman in the great heathen empires of China and India were spoken of and incidents given. How could any Christian woman be content to sit back in her cushioned pew, satisfied if only she herself be saved, while these millions of sisters are suffering and perishing? At the close the ladies of the congregation conferred together and preliminary steps for the formation of a missionary society were taken. Such facts as Mrs. Wells so interestingly presents are what many of the churches need to arouse them to action in the greatest movement of the century.

DECAPITATED.

A Sad Accident Near Leavittsburg, Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., May 20.—Nancy Deniere, in attempting to escape from a westbound train on the Erie road, at Leavittsburg, to-day, stepped in front of a train going east and was decapitated. A brakeman who tried to save her, lost an arm. The woman's husband was killed at the same place and under similar circumstances a few weeks ago.

Mr. Frank Bougher and bride left to-day for a trip to Delphi, Cincinnati and other places.

WELCOMED HOME.

The Bluffton Base Ball Club Given an Ovation at That Place.

The Bluffton base ball club have been making a tour of some of the Indiana towns and in all the games which they have played during their absence they have been victorious. They returned to Bluffton to-day and were given a rousing reception this forenoon when they alighted from the train from Elkhart, where they played and won yesterday.

Their friends met them at the depot with a band and escorted them down town amid the wildest rejoicing and excitement ran high, so telephone messages to THE SENTINEL from Bluffton say. The Bluffton boys won the game at Elkhart yesterday by a score of 11 to 6.

THE difference between the successful merchant and the physician simply is this: One gets his business for his pains, and the other gets pains for his business.—Philadelphia Press.

MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING!

A Son of Charles Zwick, of Adams County, Supposed to Be Drowned.

Last Thursday, August, the nineteen-year-old son of Charles Zwick, of Bingen, Adams county, not far from the Allen county line, took a boat and went out on the St. Mary's river to fish.

Nothing has been seen or heard of him since, and it is believed the young man was drowned. A diligent search is being made and the river will be dragged. The boat drifted and caught among the bushes on the bank, but where its occupant went is a deep mystery.

HOME PASTOR HONORED.

Rev. Northrop Will Address the National Baptist Anniversaries.

Rev. Stephen A. Northrop leaves tomorrow morning for Chicago, to attend the National Baptist anniversaries. Some two thousand delegates will be present from every state in the union. The meeting are to be helds in Rev. Dr. Lorimer's church, and the closing services in the auditorium. Pastor Northrop has the honor of delivering an address Thursday, at 11 o'clock, on "The Value of the Printing Press in the Pastor's Work." He is the only Indiana pastor of his denomination that has been invited to speak at these anniversaries, which is not only a compliment to himself, and his church, but to our city.

The growth of the Baptists during the last year has been phenominal in this country. One hundred and forty-four thousand, five hundred and ninety-five were added by baptism alone and the membership now stands for the United States 3,170,047. $1,192,572 was raised for missionary enterprises and there are 1,211,687 Sunday school scholars connected with their churches. They have seven Theological seminaries, thirty-one universities and colleges and seventy-eight academies. They also have seventy schools for the colored and Indian races. Seventeen charitable institutions are connected with the denomination. There are one hundred and eight weekly and monthly periodicals published, one or more in every state in the union. The outlook for steady, healthy growth among the Baptists was never better than it is to-day.

HOW IT STANDS.

The Much Talked of Change in the Fort Wayne College.

The object that all interested parties in the Fort Wayne M. E. college now have in view is to form an incorporated company with $100,000 capital to transform the college into a university that shall be a credit to Northern Indiana.

The business men and citizens will be expected to recognize in the plan something that will benefit both them and the city by reason of the 1,000 students it is calculated to attract here. The medical college, it is expected, will be merged with the institution, as will law and other departments of a first class school. The idea is to have five trustees from the Local Preachers' Association of America, five from the Medical college and a like number from a general choice. Should everything be accomplished according to the present program the school will be opened and conducted under the name of Taylor university.

LYE LET LOOSE.

The Well-Known Fireman Released from Custody at Bucyrus.

It will be remembered that B. Lye, the well known fireman on the Pittsburg railroad, was arrested and placed behind the bars at Bucyrus, Ohio, recently on the charge of causing the death of a boy living at that place.

The lad was stealing a ride on Lye's train when somebody threw a piece of coal, not with the intention of hitting the little fellow, but rather to frighten him off. The missile struck the boy causing a fracture from which he died. Mr. Lye was arrested. His many railroad friends helped to secure his release on bail and he is now in this city at liberty but will appear in time for trial, which will occur at an early day. Mr. Lye makes his home in Fort Wayne and is respected for his steady habits.

Wedding Bells.

At Pastor Northrop's home, on Montgomery street, last Saturday evening, Mr. Charles C. Anderson was united in marriage to Miss Mary M. Lutz. Both were residents of the city and expect to make their future home here. Mr. Anderson is a conductor on one of the roads leading into Fort Wayne. A few special friends were present at the ceremony. The pastor's necessary absence from the city the remainder of the week forbids the pleasure of tying two other knots. He is not selfish, however, but says: "Some other poor preacher will have the contract."

IN Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri you can bore a hole in a stick of firewood, plug it up after filling with powder, and leave it where a thief may get it and blow his house up. These are the only three States, however. All the others have laws making such a thing a misdemeanor.

TRAMPS are becoming numerous in this city.

THE wet weather is delaying the street improvements.

THE general conference of the M. E. church south, yesterday elected Revs. Drs. Atticus Haygood, of Sheffield, Ala., Oscar P. Fitzgerald, of Nasbville, Tenn., bishops.

IN Pennsylvania the farmers are taking an unusually active interest in politics. Their special aim appears to be to secure a stronger representation in the legislature and to get a governor who is not overly friendly or subservient to corporations.

BEFORE the tariff debate closes in the house to-morrow Congressman Carlisle, who has just been elected to the United States senate by the Kentucky legislature, will speak upon the McKinley tariff bill. It is said his speech will be one of the greatest efforts of his political life.

THE city is infested with a number of professional beggars. A business man said last evening that calls for charity from this class of individuals yesterday were more numerous on him than he had ever known before. It is very often difficult to decide when charity to this class of people should be extended.

REV. JOHN NAUGLE, of Columbus, Ohio, known throughout the country as "Camp Meeting John," who spoke in this city a week ago last Sunday at the Berry Street M. E. church and also at the City Y. M. C. A. rooms, is conducting a series of revival meetings this week at Warsaw with Rev. D. C. Woolpert. He is a brilliant preacher and peculiar, but forcible and effective in his pulpit oratory.

THE fact that the Fort Wayne M. E. college is to be retained in our city is good news. The name will be changed to the Taylor University and the $8,000 debt of the institution will be assumed by the national and district association of local Methodist preachers and the Fort Wayne medical college, and their purpose is to enlarge its scope of influence as a college. A new faculty of prominent educators will be engaged and the medical department added.

A TELEGRAM from Greensburg, Pa., says: The Callighan conspiracy case against General Master Workman Powderly, John R. Byrne and Peter Wise, was called up in the criminal court today. Callighan testified that the three had conspired against him to defeat him in his re-nomination to the legislature. Mr. Powderly testified that he had never in any way attempted to injure Callighan. The jury after being out a few minutes rendered a verdict of not guilty.

THE first state house built while Indiana was still a territory, and located at Corydon, was constructed in 1814, and it was occupied until 1825, when the capital was removed to Indianapolis. Then it was utilized for court house purposes by Harrison county, and now the first floor is occupied by the circuit court, while upper rooms are set apart for the grand jurors and prosecutor. The structure is two stories in height, and is built of rough stone of various sizes and thicknesses. Although it was constructed seventy-six years ago, the walls are still firm and woodwork is bright, showing that the original job was an honest one. One of the specifications in letting the contract was that a fence should enclose the public grounds, to be "ten rails high, staked and ridered," and it was implied that it must be "bull strong and pig tight." Near the old capitol grounds stands the residence of Governor Jennings, the first governor of Indiana. It is a brick building, unoccupied, and in a dismantled condition.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MICHENER has decided that the recently elected trustees do not take their office until the first Monday in August, and that township trustees have a right to qualify and give bond at any time before the expiration of ten days after the first Monday in August.

AT yesterday's session of the genera assembly of the Presbyterian church, south, the following resolution was offered and referred:

Resolved, That this general assembly most emphatically condemns the Louisiana state lottery company, and warns members of our churches throughout the land against all complicity with it in any shape or form, and especially in the purchase of tickets for themselves or others, believing it to contain all the worst features of gambling, which is a sin, rendered all the more dangerous by its unblushing publicity and the fact that it is at present entrenchable in all forms of the law.

REPRESENTATIVE OWEN, of Indiana, intends to offer some very important amendments to the McKinley tariff bill. One of them will strike out all of the proposed reduction of the revenue on tobacco except the proposed abolition of the license for retailers. Another will put lumber and salt upon the free list. Still another amendment will empower the secretary of the treasury to revoke the tariff on any article upon which a trust or monopoly is formed at any time, thus making it possible to prevent an unfair rise in the prices of articles of every day consumption.

THE power of prayer was beautifully illustrated Sunday in Minnesota. A drought had existed and on that day prayers ascended from every town and hamlet of the northwest for rain and for the general welfare of crops. In a few hours drenching showers fell, it is believed, upon every square foot of soil known to the spring wheat belt, and telegrams poured into the chamber of commerce from every point in Minnesota, and the stereotyped form of each was: "Drenching rain over this entire territory, and the wheat crop saved." The incident is one that would convince Christians that God watches over the interests of His people.

THE German Lutherans of Indianapolis have spoken upon compulsory education as embraced in the Wisconsin and Illinois bills. At a meeting held last Sunday they denounced the stopping of German education in the public schools of that city as one step in that direction. Committees were appointed to co-operate with German Lutherans throughout the state and to demand from legislative candidates a declaration of views in advance of the election on this question. The resolutions express friendly feelings for the public school system of Indiana, but demand that the Lutherans shall be left undisturbed in their present method of educating the young.

ASCENSION OF CHRIST.

Rev. Dr. Barns' Sermon to the Knight Templars of This City.

It is the custom of the Knight Templars to attend divine services at some one of the city churches on Ascension day and last Sunday morning they worshipped at the Wayne street M. E. church, marching in a body to the sanctuary. Rev. R. M. Barns delivered the sermon. His text was from Acts, chapter I, 9 to 12 verse, and the following is a synopsis of his address:

The ascension of our blessed Lord completed to fullness His earthly ministry and crowned with glory that amazing life. His ascension emphasizes and explains all His preceding utterances concerning His pre-existing heavenly existence. "Before Abraham was I am." "I and my Father are one." "And now come I to thee." "A little while and ye shall not see Me." It floods with divine brightness all the miracles. It gives superlative import and glory to His continuing love and protracts forever in time the lingering reverberations of his agony. "It is finished." His dying sorrows were the evidences of unconstrained love; His ascension the divine attestation of accepted and finished redemption. His cross pierces the skies and leaves to the upturned gaze of the world an open and accessable heaven.

He led them out as far as Bethany and He lifted up his hands and blessed them. Amid a crowd of angels he came. On the earth side of his life they announced the character of His mission: "For unto you is born this day a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth good will to men." Now, that his ministry is ended, the warfare accomplished, they announce to His best earthly friends that piety is not to degenerate into sentiment and dreaminess; that standing and gazing up into heaven, even after the disappearing form of their Master, is not the duty nearest them. There are times when we may look into an open or clouded heaven and be made better. Our loved ones are there; Jesus is there. There, too, we hope to rest. Heaven is our home, but the plane of duty is here. He is lifted up to a wider place. Gone home.

Why stand ye gazing? The whys of the Bible are numerous: 'Why will ye die?' 'Why spend money for that which is not bread?' We interrogate heaven and heaven interrogates us. Why look at the empty chair? Why gaze upon the little shoes? Why stand upon historic spots?

There is a cloud, but only a cloud, between us and his presence.—His coming again, the lifting of the cloud and the disclosure of a friend and brother. The upward gaze of the infant church.

"This same Jesus." Not some other Christ. But this same one of Bethlehem, of Nazareth, of Galilee, of Jerusalem, of Olivet. It was meet that he should make at the gateway of heaven the robing room of the celestial palace.

2. The place of his ascension. Mount Olivet, over against Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey from the temple, by a way moistened with his tears and stained with his blood along this way to glory. In sight of Calvary where six weeks before he had suffered on the cross, the just for the ujust to bring us to God. Within sight of Joseph's tomb, from which he had emerged by his own eternal power and Godhead and from which he came to give repentence and remission of sins to a guilty race.

4. Within sight of Gethsemane, where, amid the deep shadows of those Olive trees, on the night that he was betrayed, with the world's woe upon his immaculate spirit, in an agony of supplication an angel supported him to drink the dreadful woe, and his tranquilized spirit cried out: "'As Thou Wilt."

5. Within sight of the temple of God, with its bright walls, golden roof, Corinthian columns, with its lofty porches and smoking altar, and mitered priests. All of this earthly splendor was open to his view as he ascended to his Father and our Father and to his God and to our God.

6. As we stand to-day amid these memories, what a trancendent light shines backward from Bethany on all of the course along which the now ascending conqueror has been walking. As the rising of the sun irradiates the outspread landscape, pouring the fresh morning splendor into each valley, wreathing the mountain cliff with smiles, turning the snowy crest to crysolite while renewing the grace of every blushing flower and changing the dew drops into dismonds, so this sublime outburst of the Divinity blazes with the glory of Hermon, and in his ascent to the right hand of the Majesty on High we see Jesus only, and gazing beyond the historic slopes of Olivet we behold, not the changing hues and deepening shades of sunset and coming night, but the bright sunrise of the true faith for all ages. Listen, he speaks: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

Behold, He lifts his pierced hands. He begins to bless them. What love in that parting look! What untold riches in that blessing. His lips are pronouncing his benediction when slowly he begins to rise. Earth has lost its power to keep him. The waiting upbraiding heavens claim him as their own. An attraction stronger than our globe is upon him and declares its power. See, He rises; but still as he floats upward through the yielding air. His eyes are bent upon those unlooking men gazing into heaven; His voice is heard in blessings as he ascends. Awe struck, in silence they follow Him with loving gaze, His body lessening to the sight in its retreat into that dark blue sky, till the commissioned cloud enfolds Him and cuts off all further vision and closes the earthly and sensible commission between Jesus and his disciples. As that cloudy chariot bore him away who shall tell what happened on the other side, above and beyond the cloudy veil? On his way to the throne, what new form of glory was revealed? In what burst of angelic praises was that throne reached? "Cherubic legions guard him home, and shout him welcome to the skies." The entire company of the heavenly hosts must have struck their harps to the fullest, noblest, richest anthem that heaven ever heard. A holiday in heaven—a glad jubilee held by festal bands. See the vast attendant guard near the eternal city where Christ our Lord is King.

3. His ascension brought him to his home. Here, homeless, he had not where to lay his head. I hear him saying, "In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you."

4. High priest. High priest in the temple; within the veil, not without blood. The cloud received him out of sight, once for all, to make intercession for us.

5. For all the race: To intercede and bestow gifts.

6. Eternal king. The Mediator upon his throne. Conquest now proceeding. Henceforth expecting until his foes be made his footstool, and heaven and earth be filled with his glory. Universal king. All generations, all nations trusting in him, bowing before him, gathering round him.

Commencing a new dominion with a new kind of nationality. With a King who has endured our sorrows, encountered our temptations, wept our tears, died our death. Model and pattern of our triumphant entrance through the gates into the city. Parting from a world that had scorned and slain Him, oh what unutterable tenderness. The outstretched arms a silent symbol of blessing. Thus may we at last go to our crown and heavenly home.

7. They returned to Jerusalem. As men from the grave of an honored parent. What a sense of loneliness and abandonment. What, to tread the earth alone, without Him—with crushed hearts and irrepressible tears. How can I? A mighty equivalent is given: "Lo! I am with you." And the gift of the Holy Ghost—a compensating and abiding presence.

TAKE S.S.S. IN THE SPRING.

Nature should be assisted in the spring to throw off the heaviness of the sluggish winter circulation of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so prompt or so safely as Swift's Specific.

I have used S. S. S. for a number of years, and consider it the best tonic and blood remedy that I ever used. In fact I would not attempt to enter upon a spring or summer in this climate without it. H. W. COLEMAN, Of Coleman, Ferguson & Co., Dade City, Fla.

TRAMPS are becoming numerous in this city.

THE wet weather is delaying the street improvements.

THE general conference of the M. E. church south, yesterday elected Revs. Drs. Atticus Haygood, of Sheffield, Ala., Oscar P. Fitzgerald, of Nashville, Tenn., bishops.

IN Pennsylvania the farmers are taking an unusually active interest in politics. Their special aim appears to be to secure a stronger representation in the legislature and to get a governor who is not overly friendly or subservient to corporations.

BEFORE the tariff debate closes in the house to morrow Congressman Carlisle, who has just been elected to the United States senate by the Kentucky legislature, will speak upon the McKinley tariff bill. It is said his speech will be one of the greatest efforts of his political life.

THE city is infested with a number of professional beggars. A business man said last evening that calls for charity from this class of individuals yesterday were more numerous on him than he had ever known before. It is very often difficult to decide when charity to this class of people should be extended.

REV. JOHN NAUGLE, of Columbus, Ohio, known throughout the country as "Camp Meeting John," who spoke in this city a week ago last Sunday at the Berry Street M. E. church and also at the City Y. M. C. A. rooms, is conducting a series of revival meetings this week at Warsaw with Rev. D. C. Woolpert. He is a brilliant preacher and peculiar, but forcible and effective in his pulpit oratory.

THE fact that the Fort Wayne M. E. college is to be retained in our city is good news. The name will be changed to the Taylor University and the $8,000 debt of the institution will be assumed by the national and district association of local Methodist preachers and the Fort Wayne medical college, and their purpose is to enlarge its scope of influence as a college. A new faculty of prominent educators will be engaged and the medical department added.

A TELEGRAM from Greensburg, Pa., says: The Callighan conspiracy case against General Master Workman Powderly, John R. Byrne and Peter Wise, was called up in the criminal court today. Callighan testified that the three had conspired against him to defeat him in his re-nomination to the legislature. Mr. Powderly testified that he had never in any way attempted to injure Callighan. The jury after being out a few minutes rendered a verdict of not guilty.

THE first state house built while Indiana was still a territory, and located at Corydon, was constructed in 1814, and it was occupied until 1825, when the capital was removed to Indianapolis. Then it was utilized for court house purposes by Harrison county, and now the first floor is occupied by the circuit court, while upper rooms are set apart for the grand jurors and prosecutor. The structure is two stories in height, and is built of rough stone of various sizes and thicknesses. Although it was constructed seventy-six years ago, the walls are still firm and woodwork is bright, showing that the original job was an honest one. One of the specifications in letting the contract was that a fence should enclose the public grounds, to be "ten rails high, staked and ridered," and it was implied that it must be "bull strong and pig tight." Near the old capitol grounds stands the residence of Governor Jennings, the first governor of Indiana. It is a brick building, unoccupied, and in a dismantled condition.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MICHENER has decided that the recently elected trustees do not take their office until the first Monday in August, and that township trustees have a right to qualify and give bond at any time before the expiration of ten days after the first Monday in August.

AT yesterday's session of the genera assembly of the Presbyterian church, south, the following resolution was offered and referred:

Resolved, That this general assembly most emphatically condemns the Louisiana state lottery company, and warns members of our churches throughout the land against all complicity with it in any shape or form, and especially in the purchase of tickets for themselves or others, believing it to contain all the worst features of gambling, which is a sin, rendered all the more dangerous by its unblushing publicity and the fact that it is at present entrenchable in all forms of the law.

REPRESENTATIVE OWEN, of Indiana, intends to offer some very important amendments to the McKinley tariff bill. One of them will strike out all of the proposed reduction of the revenue on tobacco except the proposed abolition of the license for retailers. Another will put lumber and salt upon the free list. Still another amendment will empower the secretary of the treasury to revoke the tariff on any article upon which a trust or monopoly is formed at any time, thus making it possible to prevent an unfair rise in the prices of articles of every day consumption.

THE power of prayer was beautifully illustrated Sunday in Minnesota. A drought had existed and on that day prayers ascended from every town and hamlet of the northwest for rain and for the general welfare of crops. In a few hours drenching showers fell, it is believed, upon every square foot of soil known to the spring wheat belt, and telegrams poured into the chamber of commerce from every point in Minnesota, and the stereotyped form of each was: "Drenching rain over this entire territory, and the wheat crop saved." The incident is one that would convince Christians that God watches over the interests of His people.

THE German Lutherans of Indianapolis have spoken upon compulsory education as embraced in the Wisconsin and Illinois bills. At a meeting held last Sunday they denounced the stopping of German education in the public schools of that city as one step in that direction. Committees were appointed to co operate with German Lutherans throughout the state and to demand from legislative candidates a declaration of views in advance of the election on this question. The resolutions express friendly feelings for the public school system of Indiana, but demand that the Lutherans shall be left undisturbed in their present method of educating the young.

ASCENSION OF CHRIST.

Rev. Dr. Barns' Sermon to the Knight Templars of This City.

It is the custom of the Knight Templars to attend divine services at some one of the city churches on Ascension day and last Sunday morning they worshipped at the Wayne street M. E. church, marching in a body to the sanctuary. Rev. R. M. Barns delivered the sermon. His text was from Acts, chapter I, 9 to 12 verse, and the following is a synopsis of his address:

The ascension of our blessed Lord completed to fullness His earthly ministry and crowned with glory that amazing life. His ascension emphasizes and explains all His preceding utterances concerning His pre existing heavenly existence. "Before Abraham was I am." "I and my Father are one." "And now come I to thee." "A little while and ye shall not see Me." It floods with divine brightness all the miracles. It gives superlative import and glory to His continuing love and protracts forever in time the lingering reverberations of his agony. "It is finished." His dying sorrows were the evidences of unconstrained love; His ascension the divine attestation of accepted and finished redemption. His cross pierces the skies and leaves to the upturned gaze of the world an open and accessable heaven.

He led them out as far as Bethany and He lifted up his hands and blessed them. Amid a crowd of angels he came. On the earth side of his life they announced the character of His mission: "For unto you is born this day a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth good will to men." Now, that his ministry is ended, the warfare accomplished, they announce to His best earthly friends that piety is not to degenerate into sentiment and dreaminess; that standing and gazing up into heaven, even after the disappearing form of their Master, is not the duty nearest them. There are times when we may look into an open or clouded heaven and be made better. Our loved ones are there; Jesus is there. There, too, we hope to rest. Heaven is our home, but the plane of duty is here. He is lifted up to a wider place. Gone home.

Why stand ye gazing? The whys of the Bible are numerous: 'Why will ye die?' 'Why spend money for that which is not bread?' We interrogate heaven and heaven interrogates us. Why look at the empty chair? Why gaze upon the little shoes? Why stand upon historic spots?

There is a cloud, but only a cloud, between us and his presence.—His coming again, the lifting of the cloud and the disclosure of a friend and brother. The upward gaze of the infant church.

"This same Jesus." Not some other Christ. But this same one of Bethlehem, of Nazareth, of Galilee, of Jerusalem, of Olivet. It was meet that he should make at the gateway of heaven the robing room of the celestial palace.

2. The place of his ascension. Mount Olivet, over against Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey from the temple, by a way moistened with his tears and stained with his blood along this way to glory. In sight of Calvary where six weeks before he had suffered on the cross, the just for the ujust to bring us to God. Within sight of Joseph's tomb, from which he had emerged by his own eternal power and Godhead and from which he came to give repentence and remission of sins to a guilty race.

4. Within sight of Gethsemane, where, amid the deep shadows of those Olive trees, on the night that he was betrayed, with the world's woe upon his immaculate spirit, in an agony of supplication an angel supported him to drink the dreadful woe, and his tranquilized spirit cried out: ""As Thou Wilt."

5. Within sight of the temple of God, with its bright walls, golden roof, Corinthian columns, with its lofty porches and smoking altar, and mitered priests. All of this earthly splendor was open to his view as he ascended to his Father and our Father and to his God and to our God.

6. As we stand to-day amid these memories, what a trancendent light shines backward from Bethany on all of the course along which the now ascending conqueror has been walking. As the rising of the sun irradiates the outspread landscape, pouring the fresh morning splendor into each valley, breathing the mountain cliff with smiles, turning the snowy crest to crysolite while renewing the grace of every blushing flower and changing the dew drops into diamonds, so this sublime outburst of the Divinity blazes with the glory of Hermon, and in his ascent to the right hand of the Majesty on High we see Jesus only, and gazing beyond the historic slopes of Olivet we behold, not the changing hues and deepening shades of sunset and coming night, but the bright sunrise of the true faith for all ages. Listen, he speaks: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

Behold, He lifts his pierced hands. He begins to bless them. What love in that parting look! What untold riches in that blessing. His lips are pronouncing his benediction when slowly he begins to rise. Earth has lost its power to keep him. The waiting updrawing heavens claim him as their own. An attraction stronger than our globe is upon him and declares its power. See, He rises; but still as he floats upward through the yielding air. His eyes are bent upon those unlooking men gazing into heaven; His voice is heard in blessings as he ascends. Awe struck, in silence they follow Him with loving gaze, His body lessening to the sight in its retreat into that dark blue sky, till the commissioned cloud enfolds Him and cuts off all further vision and closes the earthly and sensible commission between Jesus and his disciples. As that cloudy chariot bore him away who shall tell what happened on the other side, above and beyond the cloudy veil? On his way to the throne, what new form of glory was revealed? In what burst of angelic praises was that throne reached? "Cherubic legions guard him home, and shout him welcome to the skies." The entire company of the heavenly hosts must have struck their harps to the fullest, noblest, richest anthem that heaven ever heard. A holiday in heaven—a glad jubilee held by festal bands. See the vast attendant guard near the eternal city where Christ our Lord is King.

3. His ascension brought him to his home. Here, homeless, he had not where to lay his head. I hear him saying, "In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you."

4. High priest. High priest in the temple; within the veil, not without blood. The cloud received him out of sight, once for all, to make intercession for us.

5. For all the race: To intercede and bestow gifts.

6. Eternal king. The Mediator upon his throne. Conquest now proceeding. Henceforth expecting until his foes be made his footstool, and heaven and earth be filled with his glory. Universal king. All generations, all nations trusting in him, bowing before him, gathering round him.

Commencing a new dominion with a new kind of nationality. With a King who has endured our sorrows, encountered our temptations, wept our tears, died our death. Model and pattern of our triumphant entrance through the gates into the city. Parting from a world that had scorned and slain Him, oh what unutterable tenderness. The outstretched arms a silent symbol of blessing. Thus may we at last go to our crown and heavenly home.

7. They returned to Jerusalem. As men from the grave of an honored parent. What a sense of loneliness and abandonment. What, to tread the earth alone, without Him—with crushed hearts and irrepressible tears. How can I? A mighty equivalent is given: "Lo! I am with you." And the gift of the Holy Ghost—a compensating and abiding presence.

SHOT BY AN ASSASSIN!

A Young Lady Fired Upon by an Unknown While She is Out Riding--The Criminal Calendar.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 20.—Yesterday afternoon Miss Florence McKeogh while riding her pony, about three miles northwest of this city, was fired at twice by unknown parties in hiding. One shot passed through the back part of her body between her shoulders. The young lady managed to remain on her horse and succeeded in reaching a house about a mile distant. The sheriff and posse are scouring the country endeavoring to capture the villian. No cause is known for the shooting. Miss McKeogh is a daughter of Mr. McKeogh, who is well known in Memphis and Washington, D. C.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 20.—At Odom, Ga., yesterday, Justice W. H. Ashingwall and Mr. Odom, who have been unfriendly with each other for some months, quarreled. Odom made some contemptuous allusion to the justice, whereupon the later drew a pistol. Odom leaped upon the justice, took the pistol from him, and shot him in the head. Although dangerously wounded the justice pulled out a knife and stabbed Odom twice near the heart. Both men are still alive, but may die.

JEFFERSON, Wis., May 20.—A few weeks ago the officers of the county were notified by the sheriff of Douglas county, Missouri, to keep a sharp lookout for the appearance here of three criminals, who on March 24 made their escape from jail. They were said to be the last surviving members of the old Jesse James gang. Wednesday of last week three men answering their description appeared in Watertown, this county, and were arrested. All of the desperadoes carried pistols and when arrested attempted to use them, but were prevented by the quickness of the officers. Besides the pistols a kit of the finest burglars' tools was taken from them. The sheriff of Douglas county arrived yesterday and fully identified the prisoners. The crimes for which they are wanted are the robbery of the Wright county, Missouri, treasury office of $7,000, and Samuel Turner, a Douglas county merchant, of $200. They will be taken to Missouri to-day.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Clinton Reynolds, who was shot in his office at 41 Wall street, last Thursday, by young Alphonse Stephanie, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the Chamber hospital. Stephanie is now a prisoner in the Tombs.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Barney Benson, a teamster, shot and killed Jerry Sweeney, a young man who worked for him, shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, in front of a barn on Morgan street near West Lake. The two men had been drinking, and when they reached the barn, where Benson keeps his teams, a dispute arose about some business matters. The two got into a quarrel and after a brief rough and tumble fight in which Benson was badly worsted by his younger antagonist, Benson pulled a revolver and fired two shots, both of which took effect in Sweeney's breast near the heart. Sweeney died instantly. Benson was arrested.

FIRE IN A MINE.

Appalling Loss Near Massillon, O.--Fires Elsewhere.

MASSILLON, O., May 20.—Fire has control of the Minglewood mine at North Lawrence, seven miles west of this city. When the men entered the mine Friday morning two of the rooms were found on fire. The flames have steadily advanced since. The mine is perfectly dry, which renders the situation more alarming, and the direst possible and probable money damage is simply appalling. The mine is the largest in the valley, employing 300 men, and all work has been suspended, all the entries and rooms being filled with smoke. The slope extends three-quarters of a mile under ground.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 20.—The Jennison plaster mills at Grandville burned yesterday morning causing a loss of $30,000. The Diamond Wall Finish company lost $1,500 worth of machinery.

USED REVOLVERS.

A Constable and a Man Named Wiles Have a Skirmish.

The sheriff was notified to-day of a shooting occurrence in Eel River township. From the meagre details on hand it was learned that a constable in attempting to arrest a man named Wiles was shot upon. A fight ensued in which shots were exchanged. It is not known whether anyone was injured. Wiles is at large and it is said he is wanted on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

DEATH BY DYNAMITE.

A Convict Preferred it to Working in the Mines.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20.—Bob Crawford, a white convict from Pratt mine, lay dow a stick of dynamite, lit a fuse and shouted "good-bye" to a dozen fellow-convicts who were watching him. About half a bushel of his remains have been found. He had just been recaptured after escaping from the officers and said he would rather die than serve out his sentence at the mines.

The Kemmler Case in the Supreme Court--Congressional Matters.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The supreme court has reserved its decision in the Kemmler case and adjourned until Friday.

The senate is considering a bill from the judiciary committee to overcome the effects of the recent supreme court decision on liquor in original packages. The bill was debated at length and is still under discussion.

The house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill, Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in the chair. Mr. Henderson, of North Carolina, offered an amendment abolishing the minimum punishment prescribed for violation of the internal revenue laws—rejected. Mr. Cowles, of North Carolina, offered an amendment repealing the tobacco tax—rejected. GARFIELD'S REMAINS

Removed From the Public Vault to the Crypt of the New Monument.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 20.—The bronze casket containing the remains of President Garfield was removed from the public vault in Lake View cemetery to the crypt of the new monument just before daylight this morning. The coffin in which Grandma Garfield's remains reposo was also transferred to the monument at the same time. Both caskets were opened long enough for the members of the Garfield family, who were present, to satisfy themselves that the remains were all right, after which they were sealed for all time.

Suspended.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The suspension of Harry Markal, of Philadelphia, has just been announced to the New York exchange, of which he was a member.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—For Indiana: Fair weather; warmer; variable winds.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Sweeps Over Several Parts of Ohio and Does Great Damage to Property.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, May 20.—Wayne, Ashland, Richland and Shelby counties were visited Sunday night by a terrific wind, rain and hail storm. Great damage was done to all, but Wayne county suffered the most. Three townships are swept clean. No loss of life is reported. Property is damaged to the amount of $100,000.

The storm struck the central portion of Wayne county late in the evening. A driving rain drenched the earth and filled all the streams bank full. The torrents of water seemed to chill the air and in a short time hail stones, many as large as a walnut, covered the earth to a depth of several inches. In falling they killed many sheep and hogs. Wind of great violence closed the storm. It levelled fences, tore down barns and woods, unroofed houses, and by its antics terrorized the people. In Congress, Canada and Milton townships there is scarcely a rod of fence standing and not a house is left undamaged.

Jacob Martin lost both his cows, all his sheep sheds and forty head of sheep and hogs. The roof was blown off his dwelling and there is not a panel of an upright fence on his farm of 800 acres. Mr. Martin is only one of scores of farmers thus suffering.

MUST HAVE THEM.

The Waiters Bringing the Chicago Hotels to Terms.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 20.—The three hotels where strikes among the waiters occurred yesterday, the Palmer, the Tremont, and the Commercial are running very short handed. The Grand Pacific signed the scale of the culinary alliance last evening, and the Audit signed it this afternoon.

The hotel help are in sympathy with the striking waiters. At the Tremont house a half dozen bell boys who were asked to take the places of striking waiters, went out on strike themselves. Chambermaids, cooks and other servants have been put to work in dining rooms, but they do the work with not a little grumbling.

HYNES IS SHORT.

The Treasurer of the Order of Hibernians Skips Out.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Patrick Hynes, of Green's Point, L. I., who has served two terms as national treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, left his home two weeks ago, saying that he was going to attend the convention of the order at Hartford.

His friends have not heard from him since, and the Sun intimates that there is a shortage of $1,400 in Hynes' account with the order. The convention elected Thomas J. Dundon, of Ohio, to succeed Hynes as treasurer. Hynes' bondsmen, it is thought, will make good the shortage.

FIFTY DOLLARS A MONTH

Must Be Paid by Every Liquor Dealer in Burlington, Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 20.—In a recommendation from Mayor Duncan the city council last night passed an ordinance placing a tax of $50 a month upon all places where liquor is sold in this city. There are now about eighty of these places, and the revenue is to go into the city's general fund. The action was advised by the city attorney and is the result of the recent decision of the United States supreme court on the "original package" question.

THEY WERE TAXED.

Two Miners Had $5,000 in Gold in Their Trunks.

ISHPEMING, Mich., May 20.—Henry Varkow and son, William, miners employed at the Michigan gold mine, quit work Saturday and announced their intention of going home to England. Their trunks were searched and over $5,000 worth of gold found concealed.

WORKING CONGRESSMEN.

Protectionists are Bidding for Votes for the Tariff Bill.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 20.—Half a million dollars will be invested in the erection of a tin plate mill in this vicinity if the McKinley tariff bill passes. It will be one of the largest in the world.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

MONTREAL, Que., May 20.—Fred Roths, a young Englishman hailing from Surrey, has mysteriously disappeared from this city.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—A local detective bureau is trying to find some trace of David Christie Murray, the English lecturer, whose friends are unable to ascertain his whereabouts.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Proceedings of Their Session at Saratoga--Denouncing Lotteries--Preparing for the Debate.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 20.—This morning's session of the Presbyterian assembly was occupied in hearing committee reports and listening to proxy addresses. The reports, with a single exception, were promptly adopted without debate and the assembly displayed more impatience than at any time since it convened. The committee on bills and overtures reported an overture from the Presbytery of Philadelphia concerning the celebration of the 5th semi-centennial of the adoption of the Westminster confession. The convention recommended the assembly to refer the matter to the Pan-Presbyterian convention when it meets in 1892. Adopted.

An overture from the Presbytery of Olymphia, asking the division of the synod of Columbia and the organization of the synod of Washington, comprising the Presbyteries of Idaho, Washington, Olymphia and Alaska, was approved by the convention. The report was adopted after deadlory discussion in which it was shown that the object of the division was because of the vast territory embraced in the present synod.

With regard to the overture from the Presbytery of Bismarck on lotteries the committee reported that the Presbyterian church denounces the various influence of lotteries and all other forms of gambling, etc. Adopted.

A memorial of ministers and elders in Oklahoma asking to be placed in the Presbytery of Chickasaw, the committee approves. Rev. H. S. Little, D. D., of Texas, read the report of the board of home missions. The board has organized two Sunday schools per day during the past year and every second day a church. This was accomplished at an average cost of $450 per minister. In New Mexico and Texas many Roman Catholics are joining the Presbyterian church. The work of the women's executive committee during the year was especially effective. It raised the sum of $286,627, as against $246,580, raised by all the churches. The committee reported against the overture of the Presbytery of Marion, synod of Ohio, concerning the return of certain moneys. A motion was made to adopt and Rev. Wm. Irwin, D. D., of New York, one of the corresponding secretaries of the board, proceeded to address the assembly on the subject. The report was adopted, and recess taken until 2:30 p. m.

Consideration of the board of publication's report is the first order for this afternoon. It is expected it will stir up a lively debate. Two reports were submitted, one of which, made by a special committee, charges gross extravagance on the part of the board. Dr. Crosby is chairman of the board and R. R. Simons, of New Jersey, chairman of the special committee.

The question of revision is still in its preliminary stage. The committee on methods of changing the constitution will come in with its second report Thursday morning when the debate will be renewed and it is expected, will be more inquest direct than the debate already had. The committee was in session several hours this morning wrestling with the knotty adopting net problem.

MRS. D. B. WELLS.

The Principal of Westminster Seminary Speaks on Missions at Bluffton.

(Bluffton Banner.)

Mrs. D. B. Wells, principal of Westminster Seminary of Fort Wayne, occupied the usual service hour at the Presbyterian church last evening, with an address on missions. She did not come as an official representative of any missionary organization, but was moved by the love of Christ to improve every opportunity to present a cause in which she took a deep interest. The need of the gospel among the freedmen, the Indians, and Mormons in our own country, and of the wretched condition of women in the great heathen empires of China and India were spoken of and incidents given. How could any Christian woman be content to sit back in her cushioned pew, satisfied if only she herself be saved, while these millions of sisters are suffering and perishing? At the close the ladies of the congregation conferred together and preliminary steps for the formation of a missionary society were taken. Such facts as Mrs. Wells so interestingly presents are what many of the churches need to arouse them to action in the greatest movement of the century.

Their friends met them at the depot with a band and escorted them down town amid the wildest rejoicing and excitement ran high, as telephone messages to THE SENTINEL from Bluffton say. The Bluffton boys won the game at Elkhart yesterday by a score of 11 to 6.

MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING!

A Son of Charles Zwick, of Adams County, Supposed to Be Drowned.

Last Thursday, August, the nineteen-year-old son of Charles Zwick, of Bingen, Adams county, not far from the Allen county line, took a boat and went out on the St. Mary's river to fish.

Nothing has been seen or heard of him since, and it is believed the young man was drowned. A diligent search is being made and the river will be dragged. The boat drifted and caught among the bushes on the bank, but where its occupant went is a deep mystery.

ROME PASTOR HONORED.

Rev. Northrop Will Address the National Baptist Anniversaries.

Rev. Stephen A. Northrop leaves tomorrow morning for Chicago, to attend the National Baptist anniversaries. Some two thousand delegates will be present from every state in the union. The meeting are to be holds in Rev. Dr. Lorimer's church, and the closing services in the auditorium. Pastor Northrop has the honor of delivering an address Thursday, at 11 o'clock, on "The Value of the Printing Press in the Pastor's Work." He is the only Indiana pastor of his denomination that has been invited to speak at these anniversaries, which is not only a compliment to himself, and his church, but to our city.

The growth of the Baptists during the last year has been phenominal in this country. One hundred and forty-four thousand, five hundred and ninety-five were added by baptism alone and the membership now stands for the United States 3,170,047. $1,192,572 was raised for missionary enterprises and there are 1,211,687 Sunday school scholars connected with their churches. They have seven Theological seminaries, thirty-one universities and colleges and seventy-eight academies. They also have seventy schools for the colored and Indian races. Seventeen charitable institutions are connected with the denomination. There are one hundred and eight weekly and monthly periodicals published, one or more in every state in the union. The outlook for steady, healthy growth among the Baptists was never better than it is to-day.

HOW IT STANDS.

The Much Talked of Change in the Fort Wayne College.

The object that all interested parties in the Fort Wayne M. E. college now have in view is to form an incorporated company with $100,000 capital to transform the college into a university that shall be a credit to Northern Indiana.

The business men and citizens will be expected to recognize in the plan something that will benefit both them and the city by reason of the 1,000 students it is calculated to attract here. The medical college, it is expected, will be merged with the institution, as will law and other departments of a first class school. The idea is to have five trustees from the Local Preachers' Association of America, five from the Medical college and a like number from a general choice. Should everything be accomplished according to the present program the school will be opened and conducted under the name of Taylor university.

LYE LET LOOSE.

The Well-Known Fireman Released from Custody at Bucyrus.

It will be remembered that B. Lye, the well known fireman on the Pittsburg railroad, was arrested and placed behind the bars at Bucyrus, Ohio, recently on the charge of causing the death of a boy living at that place.

The lad was stealing a ride on Lye's train when somebody threw a piece of coal, not with the intention of hitting the little fellow, but rather to frighten him off. The missile struck the boy causing a fracture from which he died. Mr. Lye was arrested. His many railroad friends helped to secure his release on bail and he is now in this city at liberty but will appear in time for trial, which will occur at an early day. Mr. Lye makes his home in Fort Wayne and is respected for his steady habits.

Wedding Bells.

At Pastor Northrop's home, on Montgomery street, last Saturday evening, Mr. Charles C. Anderson was united in marriage to Miss Mary M. Lutz. Both were residents of the city and expect to make their future home here. Mr. Anderson is a conductor on one of the roads leading into Fort Wayne. A few special friends were present at the ceremony. The pastor's necessary absence from the city the remainder of the week forbids the pleasure of tying two other knots. He is not selfish, however, but says: "Some other poor preacher will have the contract."

In Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri you can bore a hole in a stick of firewood, plug it up after filling with powder, and leave it where a thief may get it and blow his house up. These are the only three States, however. All the others have laws making such a thing a misdemeanor.

TRAMPS are becoming numerous in this city.

THE wet weather is delaying the street improvements.

THE general conference of the M. E. church south, yesterday elected Revs. Drs. Atticus Haygood, of Sheffield, Ala., Oscar P. Fitzgerald, of Nashville, Tenn., bishops.

IN Pennsylvania the farmers are taking an unusually active interest in politics. Their special aim appears to be to secure a stronger representation in the legislature and to get a governor who is not overly friendly or subservient to corporations.

BEFORE the tariff debate closes in the house to morrow Congressman Carlisle, who has just been elected to the United States senate by the Kentucky legislature, will speak upon the McKinley tariff bill. It is said his speech will be one of the greatest efforts of his political life.

THE city is infested with a number of professional beggars. A business man said last evening that calls for charity from this class of individuals yesterday were more numerous on him than he had ever known before. It is very often difficult to decide when charity to this class of people should be extended.

REV. JOHN NAGGLE, of Columbus, Ohio, known throughout the country as "Camp Meeting John," who spoke in this city a week ago last Sunday at the Berry Street M. E. church and also at the City Y. M. C. A. rooms, is conducting a series of revival meetings this week at Warsaw with Rev. D. C. Woolpert. He is a brilliant preacher and peculiar, but forcible and effective in his pulpit oratory.

THE fact that the Fort Wayne M. E. college is to be retained in our city is good news. The name will be changed to the Taylor University and the $8,000 debt of the institution will be assumed by the national and district association of local Methodist preachers and the Fort Wayne medical college, and their purpose is to enlarge its scope of influence as a college. A new faculty of prominent educators will be engaged and the medical department added.

A TELEGRAM from Greensburg, Pa., says: The Callighan conspiracy case against General Master Workman Powderly, John R. Byrne and Peter Wise, was called up in the criminal court today. Callighan testified that the three had conspired against him to defeat him in his re-nomination to the legislature. Mr. Powderly testified that he had never in any way attempted to injure Callighan. The jury after being out a few minutes rendered a verdict of not guilty.

THE first state house built while Indiana was still a territory, and located at Corydon, was constructed in 1814, and it was occupied until 1825, when the capital was removed to Indianapolis. Then it was utilized for court house purposes by Harrison county, and now the first floor is occupied by the circuit court, while upper rooms are set apart for the grand jurors and prosecutor. The structure is two stories in height, and is built of rough stone of various sizes and thicknesses. Although it was constructed seventy-six years ago, the walls are still firm and woodwork is bright, showing that the original job was an honest one. One of the specifications in letting the contract was that a fence should enclose the public grounds, to be "ten rails high, staked and ridered," and it was implied that it must be "built strong and pig tight." Near the old capitol grounds stands the residence of Governor Jennings, the first governor of Indiana. It is a brick building, unoccupied, and in a dismantled condition.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MICHENER has decided that the recently elected trustees do not take their office until the first Monday in August, and that township trustees have a right to qualify and give bond at any time before the expiration of ten days after the first Monday in August.

AT yesterday's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, south, the following resolution was offered and referred:

Resolved, That this general assembly most emphatically condemns the Louisiana state lottery company, and warns members of our churches throughout the land against all complicity with it in any shape or form, and especially in the purchase of tickets for themselves or others, believing it to contain all the worst features of gambling, which is a sin, rendered all the more dangerous by its unblushing publicity and the fact that it is at present entrenchable in all forms of the law.

REPRESENTATIVE OWEN, of Indiana, intends to offer some very important amendments to the McKinley tariff bill. One of them will strike out all of the proposed reduction of the revenue on tobacco except the proposed abolition of the license for retailers. Another will put lumber and salt upon the free list. Still another amendment will empower the secretary of the treasury to revoke the tariff on any article upon which a trust or monopoly is formed at any time, thus making it possible to prevent an unfair rise in the prices of articles of every day consumption.

THE power of prayer was beautifully illustrated Sunday in Minnesota. A drought had existed and on that day prayers ascended from every town and hamlet of the northwest for rain and for the general welfare of crops. In a few hours drenching showers fell, it is believed, upon every square foot of soil known to the spring wheat belt, and telegrams poured into the chamber of commerce from every point in Minnesota, and the stereotyped form of each was: "Drenching rain over this entire territory, and the wheat crop saved." The incident is one that would convince Christians that God watches over the interests of His people.

THE German Lutherans of Indianapolis have spoken upon compulsory education as embraced in the Wisconsin and Illinois bills. At a meeting held last Sunday they denounced the stopping of German education in the public schools of that city as one step in that direction. Committees were appointed to co operate with German Lutherans throughout the state and to demand from legislative candidates a declaration of views in advance of the election on this question. The resolutions express friendly feelings for the public school system of Indiana, but demand that the Lutherans shall be left undisturbed in their present method of educating the young.

ASCENSION OF CHRIST.

Rev. Dr. Burns' Sermon to the Knight Templars of This City.

It is the custom of the Knight Templars to attend divine services at some one of the city churches on Ascension day and last Sunday morning they worshipped at the Wayne street M. E. church, marching in a body to the sanctuary. Rev. R. M. Burns delivered the sermon. His text was from Acts, chapter I, 9 to 12 verse, and the following is a synopsis of his address:

The ascension of our blessed Lord completed to fullness His earthly ministry and crowned with glory that amazing life. His ascension emphasizes and explains all His preceding utterances concerning His pre-existing heavenly existence. "Before Abraham was I am." "I and my Father are one." "And now come I to thee." "A little while and ye shall not see Me." It floods with divine brightness all the miracles. It gives superlative import and glory to His continuing love and promets forever in time the lingering reverberations of his agony. "It is finished." His dying sorrows were the evidences of unconstrained love; His ascension the divine attestation of accepted and finished redemption. His cross pierces the skies and leaves to the upturned gaze of the world an open and accessable heaven.

He led them out as far as Bethany and He lifted up his hands and blest them. Amid a crowd of angels he came. On the earth side of his life they announced the character of His mission: "For unto you is born this day a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth good will to men." Now, that his ministry is ended, the warfare accomplished, they announce to His best earthly friends that piety is not to degenerate into sentiment and dreaminess; that standing and gazing up into heaven, even after the disappearing form of their Master, is not the duty nearest them. There are times when we may look into an open or clouded heaven and be made better. Our loved ones are there; Jesus is there. There, too, we hope to rest. Heaven is our home, but the place of duty is here. He is lifted up to a wider place, Gone home.

Why stand ye gazing? The whys of the Bible are numerous: 'Why will ye die?' 'Why spend money for that which is not bread?' We interrogate heaven and heaven interrogates us. Why look at the empty chair? Why gaze upon the little shoes? Why stand upon historic spots?

There is a cloud, but only a cloud, between us and his presence.—His coming again, the lifting of the cloud and the disclosure of a friend and brother. The upward gaze of the infant church. "This same Jesus." Not some other Christ. But this same one of Bethlehem, of Nazareth, of Galilee, of Jerusalem, of Olivet. It was meet that he should make at the gateway of heaven the robing room of the celestial palace.

2. The place of his ascension. Mount Olivet, over against Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey from the temple, by a way moistened with his tears and stained with his blood along this way to glory. In sight of Calvary where six weeks before he had suffered on the cross, the just for the unjust to bring us to God. Within sight of Joseph's tomb, from which he had emerged by his own eternal power and Godhead and from which he came to give repentence and remission of sins to a guilty race.

4. Within sight of Gethsemane, where, amid the deep shadows of those Olive trees, on the night that he was betrayed, with the world's woe upon his immaculate spirit, in an agony of supplication an angel supported him to drink the dreadful woe, and his tranquilized spirit cried out: ""As Thou Wilt."

5. Within sight of the temple of God, with its bright walls, golden roof, Corinthian columns, with its lofty porches and smoking altar, and mitered priests. All of this earthly splendor was open to his view as he ascended to his Father and our Father and to his God and to our God.

6. As we stand to-day amid these memories, what a transcendent light shines backward from Bethany on all of the course along which the now ascending conqueror has been walking. As the rising of the sun irradiates the outspread landscape, pouring the fresh morning splendor into each valley, wreathing the mountain cliff with smiles, turning the snowy crest to crysolite while renewing the grace of every blushing flower and changing the dew drops into diamonds, so this sublime outburst of the Divinity blazes with the glory of Hermon, and in his ascent to the right hand of the Majesty on High we see Jesus only, and gazing beyond the historic slopes of Olivet we behold, not the changing hues and deepening shades of sunset and coming night, but the bright sunrise of the true faith for all ages. Listen, he speaks: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

Behold. He lifts his pierced hands. He begins to bless them. What love in that parting look! What untold riches in that blessing. His lips are pronouncing his benediction when slowly he begins to rise. Earth has lost its power to keep him. The waiting updrawing heavens claim him as their own. An attraction stronger than our globe is upon him and declares its power. See, He rises; but still as he floats upward through the yielding air. His eyes are bent upon those unlooking men gazing into heaven; His voice is heard in blessings as he ascends. Awe struck, in silence they follow Him with loving gaze, His body lessening to the sight in its retreat into that dark blue sky, till the commissioned cloud enfolds Him and cuts off all further vision and closes the earthly and sensible communion between Jesus and his disciples. As that cloudy chariot bore him away who shall tell what happened on the other side, above and beyond the cloudy veil? On his way to the throne, what new form of glory was revealed? In what burst of angelic praises was that throne reached? "Cherubim legions guard him home, and shout him welcome to the skies." The entire company of the heavenly hosts must have struck their harps to the fullest, noblest, richest anthem that heaven ever heard. A holiday in heaven—a glad jubilee held by festal bands. See the vast attendant guard near the eternal city where Christ our Lord is King.

3. His ascension brought him to his home. Here, homeless, he had not where to lay his head. I hear him saying, "In my Father's house are many mansions. I go to prepare a place for you."

4. High priest. High priest in the temple; within the veil, not without blood. The cloud received him out of sight, once for all, to make intercession for us.

5. For all the race: To intercede and bestow gifts.

6. Eternal king. The Mediator upon his throne. Conquest now proceeding. Henceforth expecting until his foes be made his footstool, and heaven and earth be filled with his glory. Universal king. All generations, all nations trusting in him, bowing before him, gathering round him.

Commencing a new dominion with a new kind of nationality. With a King who has endured our sorrows, encountered our temptations, wept our tears, died our death. Model and pattern of our triumphant entrance through the gates into the city. Parting from a world that had scorned and slain Him, oh what unutterable tenderness. The outstretched arms a silent symbol of blessing. Thus may we at last go to our crown and heavenly home.

7. They returned to Jerusalem. As men from the grave of an honored parent. What a sense of loneliness and abandonment. What, to tread the earth alone, without Him—with crushed hearts and irrepressible tears. How can it? A mighty equivalent is given: "Lo! I am with you." And the gift of the Holy Ghost—a compensating and abiding presence.

Nature should be assisted in the spring to throw off the heaviness of the sluggish winter circulation of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so prompt or so safely as Swift's Specific.

I have used S. S. S. for a number of years, and consider it the best tonic and blood remedy that I ever used. In fact I would not attempt to enter upon a spring or summer in this climate without it. H. W. COLEMAN,

The policy of our house is to dealoutly in such goods as are made by honest labor and the pay for the work is such as will encourage labor to be honest. On this basis working men we ask your patronage for

This is all wrong. COME TO US and we'll prove it to you by giving you a dress suit which will seem like an old friend from the word "go." We guarantee comfort in our suits in the same way as we guarantee Quality and Low Prices and Style.
